Washington Traction Company's Failure to Remove Wires.

The Electrical Engineer Recommends Summary Action - Assess. ment of Property Ordered-Cars on B Street Line Will Stop on Far Side

The City and Suburban Railway Company recently filed an application with the Commissioners for a permit to creet a feeder on Fourth Street northeast, between the 20 Mand Avenue and the Bunker Hill Road. In the application it was stated that the feeder was to be erected on the wooden poles in the centre of Fourth Street, the property of the city and of the company. It was also stated that the permit was requested on the condition that the erection of the wire ing the current on the Michigan Avenue extension of the company's line, and that it would be removed as soon as practi-

Walter C. Allen, the Electrical Engineer, in reporting upon the application informs the Commissioners that the wires strung as a temporary expedient on the Fourth Street line of the City and Suburban Railway were allowed to be placed there with the understanding that they were to be removed immediately after the ceremonies attending the opening of Trinity College. At that time, Mr. Allen says that G. H. Harries, Vice President of the company, stated that arrangements were being made for the building of a conduit in T Street, from the power station to North Capitol Street, through which the feeders for this line would run, and asking that these temporary wires be allowed to remain longer. Mr. Allen states that this was done by the consent of the Engineer Commissioner, but he says that frequent requests for a plan showing the location of this conduit have failed to bring any response. In consequence of this, Mr. Allen states, he wrote to the company recently calling attention to the facts in the matter and requesting that the wires be removed immediately. Mr. Allen says that he has received no rendy to this letter, and be recommends that a letter be sent to the company ordering the removal of these wires within forty-eight hours after the receipt of the notice.

The Commissioners yesterday issued an order to provide for the regular assessment of property—real and personal—in the District of Columbia, as provided by law. The order is:

"That for the fiscal year to end June 20, 1981, and pursuant to the act of Congress providing for a permanent form of government for the District of Columbia, approved June II, 1858, and the tenth section of 'An act to provide an immediate revision and equalization of real estate tion of 'An act to provide an immediate revision and equalization of real estate values in the District of Columbia; also said District in the year 1896, and every

Mr. Caril states that he is fearful that if every train is compelled to stop on the grade it might lead sometime to scrious results. If the track were slippery and the trains should start to run backward down the grade. Mr. Caril adds that it is on account of this danger that the present regulations of the company forbid any stop at the street crossings on Capitol Hill, between First Street west, and the east side of New Jersey Avenue, except in cases of emergacy.

Captain L. S. Beach, the Engineer Commissioner, has forwarded to his colleagues a recommendation that the request of the company be granted, as it is believed that the stop on the near side of the street in this case might result in accident.

Thomas W. Gilmer has written to the ment relative to the general and firm enforcement of the Police Regulations upon all, and not upon the few. Mr. Gilmer disclaims any desire to influence the Board of Commissioners unduly or upon a particular case, but at the same time he expresses the hope that the authori-ties will see to it that the police force has no excuse to infer that the regulains no excuse to forer that the regula-tions or other taws are not to be rigidly enforced uniformly and impartially.

The trustees of M. C. Stone, deceased, through Lester B. Platt and others re-cently requested an estimate for a side-walk on the south side of Chicago Street northeast, square 720. The circumstances justifying the walk, and the Commissioners having already ordered the same, Mr. Hunt recommends that the order be allowed to stand, and that Tucker & Bro. be advised in accordance therewith. This the Commissioners have approved.

Thomas Lanham, Superintendent of Parking, has reported upon the applica-tion of Mrs. Ella M. Miller, for the planting of a tree in front of the premises, 1853 North Capitol Street. Secretary of the Swiss Legation, to thirteen checks, amounting in the aggregate to 180. He has made a denial of the charge.

The search for Richardson began last Wednesday, when Dr. Lardy teicphoned to headquarters that his name had been forged to a number of checks. To Dectetives Boyd and Hartigan Dr. Lardy stated that Richardson was formerly employed as his valet. While acting in that capacity, Richardson appears to have had access to the check book of his employer and to have abstracted blank checks from time to time during the past month. The checks, it is said, bore the forged signature of Dr. Lardy and were cashed in this city. All were drawn on the Riggs Nutlonal Bank, for various amounts, and are said to be in the handwriting of Richardson.

About ten days ago Dr. Lardy suspected something was amiss and began an investigation. He called at the Riggs Bank, was shown several checks which he claims he did not sign, and then made a report of the matter to the police. Sunjeton fell upon Richardson for two reasons. It is said that he atone had access to the check book from which checks were missing and that, coupled with the fact that he disappeared as soon as the matter was reported, gave color to the theory of his guilt. Steps were then taken to find Richardson, and after some difficulty he was located in New York. The police there were asked to arrest him and yesterday word was received that the accused was in custedly.

Richardson had been in the employe of Dr. Lardy since last July. He was highly recommended, and, so far as known has never before been mader arrest. Several years ago he graduated from the Washington High School. He is twentyvestigation. He called at the Riggs Bank,

The White House Cat Gives Birth

The Mother a Terror to Rodents at the Mansion-Not Apt to Lose Her Position With Chauging Adminis. trations-Sketch of Her Career to Five Kittens.

When the President and Mrs. McKinley eturn to the White House they will find ive new and strange faces there to greet them, for an important event took place resterday at the Executive Mansion, Way sack in a dark corner of the store room in the basement of the house, nestling in warm and soft bed made of an old coat and other cast-off garments, is a quintette of pretty little black and white kittens Their eyes are not yet opened to the day light, and their "meew" is low and feeble yet they were the centre of all interest vesterday at the Mansion. There is no prouder feline in all Washington than is Tabby, the mother, and she guards her offspring with jealous care.

Tabby has had a somewhat check ered career. She is by no means aristo cratic simply because she is the White House cat, but on the contrary is ex tremely democratic and plain in her tastes and habits. She does not belong to the Angora tribe and has never in sisted that blue blood coursed through her veins. On the contrary, she seems proud of her humble birth in a blind alley in South Washington and of her rise through her own unaided efforts to the lofty position which she now occupies.

She might be styled a "self-made" cat.
One drizzly, rainy day about a year ago
"Tabby" leaped the high fence palings about the White House grounds and stole softly up to the kitchen door and awaited an opportunity to gain admittance. She had all the appearance of an unsuccessful office seeker whose influence had falled to land the coveted job. She was lean and hungry looking. Finally she gained the kitchen and hugged the range. At first the cook was denosed to eject the intruder at the end of a broom stick, but Tabby's pitiful condition appealed to her, and from the bountiful larder a dish of milk and a piece of meat were brought forth and placed before the starving feline.
Since that day Tabby has been the of proud of her humble birth in a forth and placed before the starving feline.

Since that day Tabby has been the official White House cat. She showed her appreciation by at once getting to work and disposing of whatever rodents chanced to limit about the White House cellar. Since that time the mouse traps have rusted and the tenantiess rat holes have become filled with dust.

Tabby did not feel, however, that her appointment host been confirmed until one day, when the stairway was unguarded, she ran upstairs and was petted and caressed by Mrs. McKinley. Then she feit conflict of her ground and she now believes that her tenure of office is for life. Once before Tabby gave birth to kittens in the White House and the unfeeling servants intended to drown the helpless little creatures, but Mrs. McKinley, who learned of the threatened execution, forbade it, and comfortable homes in respectable families were found for Tabby's babies.

Yesterday would have been a duil day at the Executive Mansion had it not been for the birth of those five kittens. The event was the all-aborbing topic of conversation among the idle attaches of the house, and there are at least five claimants for each kitten. Two of the little ones are black and white, a third is black with white spots a fourth is black all save three paws, a spot over one eye, and the tip of its tail, while the fifth is alter three paws, a spot over one will be sleek and glossy like its distinguished mother.
